

Anyone Interested in Summer Tutoring???

My name is Mia Traverse, and I am a student at Hamilton High School. I have been tutoring kids in grade/middle school this past year, and I would like to open up my services this summer. Summer tutoring is a great way to for your student to keep their skills sharp (or even get a head start for next year) in a relaxed setting, without having to worry about normal classwork.

- Age: All ages
- Subjects: Math, reading/writing
- Where Tutoring Sessions Would Take Place: Sussex library
- Timing: Will be determined with interested families
- Fees: $12/hour
- Personal experience:
 - I have been tutoring for a year and a half now in mainly math and reading
 - I have been advanced in reading for several years, and therefore could help with reading and writing at many grade levels.
 - I often peer edit my classmates' papers and could help edit writing assignments and provide suggestions for improvement.
 - I have been in advanced math since 2nd grade, and I have taken math classes up through AP Calculus BC. I have experience helping students of varying ages, from K5 through high school students that were in my own math class.
 - I have demonstrated problems to the whole class before, which included showing all the steps and the thinking process to reach a solution. I've also experienced various different teachers and their teaching styles, and I've many different methods to introduce a concept if a student does not understand the traditional way to solve a problem.
